Introducing GrandStadium.TV now with Sports NGIN from TST Media!

GrandStadium.tv is a full-featured Internet broadcasting solution, giving high schools a simple, sophisticated, and powerful way to harness student energy and initiative to bring sporting events and statistics to their wider school family communities.

For Students: Hands-On Experience & an Outlet for Creativity

Digital video is nothing strange or intimidating to today's students. They're the primary drivers of the evolution and spread of online services like YouTube and Facebook.

Already, student webcasting teams have used GrandStadium to set up and run productions in venues ranging from their own community stadiums and field houses to the homes of professional sports teams.

With GrandStadium, students point the cameras, run the switchers, conduct the interviews, and broadcast the games. In the process, they learn real world skills and how modern media operates.

For Teachers: Practical Training & New Mentoring Resources

By encouraging active connections with KSTC Channel 45, GrandStadium puts teachers in direct touch with media professionals in mutually beneficial partnerships. As they work with KSTC's communications professionals, teachers broaden and deepen their own understanding of how the professional field works; gaining information and insight they can use to support teaching and learning in their own classrooms.

- ▶ Students work in cooperative learning groups to plan and implement programming.
- ▶ They conduct interviews and manage all aspects of producing a live event.
- ▶ They create school-focused commercials and public service announcements.
- ▶ They produce a meaningful product that demonstrates creativity, comprehension, and critical thinking skills.

A Whole New Ballgame

Integrated with the powerful SPORT NGIN LIVE and NGIN content management system (CMS), the GrandStadium.tv platform will give users access to features such as:

- ▶ Easy placement of video content on web pages
- ▶ Live video side-by-side with instant scoring, statistics and comments
- ▶ NGIN will be able to track fundraising monetization at a per-click level
- ▶ Controllable viewing permissions with powerful NGIN user permission functionality

2011-2012 MSHSL Tournament Webcast Schedule

Broadcast Training

Multiple times each year, students from GrandStadium partner schools are invited to a Broadcast Training Workshop. During this full-day workshop, students get in-depth hands-on training with the equipment they'll be working with in GrandStadium productions as well as the ability to see and work with the Professional Grade equipment in use at Hubbard Broadcasting's KSTC Channel 45 Station. For more information on the training dates and availability, please visit <http://info.grandstadium.tv>.
